

New corporate partner at Carey Olsen

12 March 2009

CAREY OLSEN is strengthening its corporate and finance team in Jersey by making Guy Coltman a partner in this practice area.

Guy specialises in corporate work focusing on mergers and acquisitions, restructurings, joint ventures and general corporate advice.

Managing partner Alex Ohlsson said, "The addition of a new partner to our corporate and finance team is another positive step forward for the firm, and in Guy we believe we have found the right person to add real value to our offering in what is an increasingly important area of business for us."

Advocate Coltman said, "Taking on this new role is very exciting. Being made partner gives me the opportunity to challenge myself to match the excellent service levels provided by the existing partners at Carey Olsen and hopefully to add new impetus to the growing corporate and finance team."

Prior to joining Carey Olsen in September 2006, Advocate Coltman practised corporate law with an emphasis on private and public company mergers and acquisitions at the London office of the international law firm Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom (UK) LLP, and latterly with another law firm in Jersey.

Guy is qualified as solicitor in England and Wales and was educated at McGill University in Montreal and Cambridge.
