

Cryptocurrencies

Carey Olsen has been at the forefront of developments in the cryptocurrency and funds space, advising on the launch of the world's first Bitcoin investment fund and the first Ethereum denominated fund, as well as many of the most pioneering initial coin offerings (ICOs) structured offshore.

Our involvement in these transactions has provided us with a practical understanding of the challenges and opportunities that financial institutions, businesses, investors and start-ups face, enabling us to provide a service that is highly responsive and grounded in the commercial reality of the marketplace.

“The quality of advice was outstanding and the turnaround time excellent.”

Chambers and Partners

We advise on the laws of Bermuda, the British Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, Guernsey and Jersey from nine international locations, and have excellent relationships with the regulators in our jurisdictions.

Our services include advice on the launch of crypto-denominated and non-crypto-denominated funds, the regulation of token sales and other digital asset-related transactions, company incorporations (including advising on the benefits of offshore jurisdictions), shareholder agreements and cryptocurrency-related taxation and dispute matters.

1st

Advising on the world's first Bitcoin investment fund.

We focus on protecting our clients' interests throughout the development and testing phases of new crypto innovations, and ensure that businesses are made aware of any potential regulatory and compliance issues.
