E will.whitehead@careyolsen.com

Will specialises in commercial property transactions and regulatory matters. Particular areas of practice include advising on commercial real estate acquisitions and disposals (both freehold and leasehold) and construction and development projects. Will also advises on local property financing transactions (both commercial and residential).

Will acts for a number of international investors, local businesses and financial institutions, on a broad range of commercial property transactions. He is regularly instructed by telecommunications providers to advise on site acquisitions, and provides local planning and regulatory advice on development and construction projects. Will also has extensive experience advising residential and commercial mortgage providers and borrowers on Jersey real estate matters. He advises on property aspects of corporate acquisitions including due diligence reviews and reports on property interests.

Career

Will joined Carey Olsen in 2005 and was admitted as a Lawyer of the Supreme Court of New South Wales, Australia, in September 2006.
